Welcome Corbyn

Today we welcomed our new friend Corbyn, Corbyn will be in the Starfish room as he's only a little bubba, but for now he's playing in the Jellyfish getting to know all of his new big friends.

Corbyn had a lovely settled first day here in the Jellyfish room, he made lots of new friends and had lots of cuddles with all the educators.

His new friend Spencer was loving having him around, as Corbyn crawled around the room, Spencer got down to his level and followed him around the room.

What a wonderful first day you've had Corbyn, we can't wait for many more.

Which colours can you see?

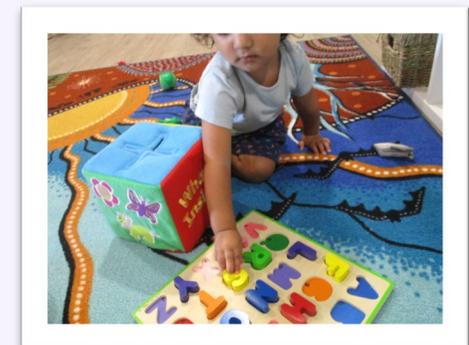

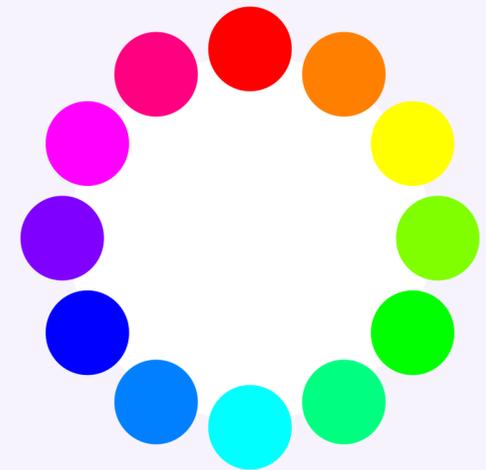

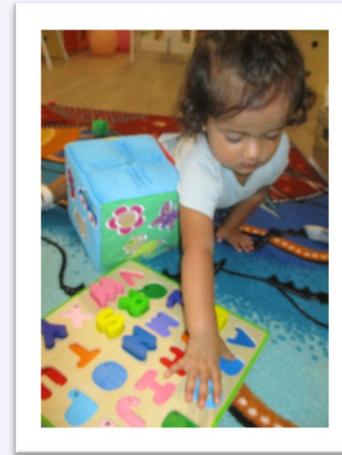

Amal grabbed the new alphabet puzzle off of the shelf and began taking all of the letters off of the board. Once she had taken them all off, it was time to find where they all go back too. Amal was able to place some of the letters into the correct spots but needed a little bit of help with some from Miss Taylah. As Miss Taylah helped Amal place the puzzle pieces back onto the board, they talked about the different colours they could see, Amal repeated each of the different colours Miss Taylah was saying.

Spencer noticed Miss Taylah and Amal sitting on the mat and exploring the puzzle pieces. Spencer joined in and said "Colour, yellow".

Spencer, Amal and Miss Taylah, took turns in placing the puzzle pieces down, they continued to go through each of the different colours that they could see on the board. Miss Taylah asked each of them what each of the colours were, Spencer was able to recognize the colours yellow, blue and green, Amal repeated the colours after Spencer.

Reflection of the day

We had a settled day with our new friend settling in, as well as welcoming back a couple friends that were unwell last week.
Spencer and Amal enjoyed talking about the different colours.
