Water play

Today as the sun was out, we took the chance to get wet and messy. We filled a tray up with warm water, green food colouring and lots of bubbles.

Right away, Arden crawled into the water and starting to splash around with Harlow following and using her hands to splash the water. Maddie laid on the outside of the tray with her hands in the water.

Miss Korissa then starting picking the bubbles up with her hand and clapping. Harlow, Maddie and Arden watched as the bubbles went everywhere! Harlow and Arden copied, clapping their hands together.

Miss Korissa also placed bubbles onto their heads and Arden then starting to place more bubbles around her head.

The starfish children love their water play!

Harmony day
21st of March

To celebrate we read a story called "I'm Australian too." The children looked at the pictures of all the different people that call Australia home. Throughout the day, we also listened to songs that were in different languages.

The favourite for the day was Baby Shark.
Arden, Harlow and Maddie danced along to the music.

Harlow exploring colours

Arden practicing her walking today using the fun walker. At first she played with the activities on the front. Arden was then shown that she could hold the top and push it along as she walked. Arden was a little unsure and when she held on, the walker moved but she didn't. After a few goes Arden did take a couple steps with the walker.

Reflection of the day

We've had another fantastic day in the Starfish room today. The children seemed to love playing in the water and were very engaged with splashing and feeling the bubbles. The children are becoming more comfortable in the room and with educators, and we are all enjoying building relationships with the children and families.
