

SEAHORSE DAILY STORY

WELCOME SAMIK

Today we welcomed Samik to the Seahorse room. During the day Samik explored the room, noting where the different toys can be found. He spent some time looking at the button collage activity, as well as creating a pom pom Easter egg. To help Samik settle he had some cuddles with Miss Jade and Miss Briohny. Before lunch he joined the group time to listen to our easter story. We hope Samik has a good rest of day and we look forward to getting to know him during his time in the Seahorse room.

POM POM EASTER EGGS

We continued working on our Easter arts and craft this morning by making pom pom Easter eggs. Holding one of the paint brushes in their hands they spread the glue across their page. Once they were sure they was enough glue they searched through the tray of pom poms and selected the ones they wanted to use. Using their fine motor skills they were able to grasp the pom poms in their pincer grip before placing them onto the paper. Miss Briohny showed the children that they needed to press the pom poms down to ensure they stuck to the paper. The children also used their colour recognition skills while working with the pom poms. Samik also used his sense of touch to explore the texture of the pom poms, rolling them in his fingers.

BUTTON EASTER EGG DRY COLLAGE

Miss Briohny created a new activity for the children to engage in this morning. Using some coloured paper we cut out egg shapes before laminating them and using buttons to decorate them. Azalea, Olivia, Yoonu, Samik, Keaston and Nathaniel used their creativity to place the buttons around the easter egg shapes to decorate them. Miss Jade joined the children at the table and they talked about the different colours of the buttons. Keaston enjoyed working with the buttons as he created multiple different decorated eggs. This is a good activity for the children as it provides them with the opportunity to create multiple designs as the buttons are not secured to the eggs. Olivia and Nathaniel worked together to decorate the yellow egg.

GROUP TIME

As Easter is fast approaching we have been using our group times to incorporate Easter into our daily routine. As a group we have been reading different Easter stories while also singing some songs about bunnies. Today's story was 'The Easter Bunny comes to Queensland.' The children enjoyed listening to the story.
