Dinosaur puzzle

Today the children completed a large dinosaur puzzle before morning tea. Everyone had so much fun trying to find the pieces that went together. After the puzzle was finished and the last piece put into place, some of the children jumped for joy!

Signing In

Miss Caitlin sat down with the Sharks and Whales to practice writing their names. We have introduced the 'Sign In' book so that every morning when the children arrive, they sign in by tracing their name. Today we focused on the correct grip of the pen. Miss Caitlin helped us figure out where our fingers should go and which hand to hold it in.

Spontaneous Play

After morning tea, the children got to have some fun exploring all the different toys and dress ups. Carter, Huda and Ellie were using the building blocks to make the biggest tower they possibly could before it fell over.

Lucas was having a brilliant time playing with the play dough, using all the different cut outs to make whatever he pleased! Phillip spent a lot of the morning playing in the home corner pretending to make heaps of different meals, for Miss Zoe to try!

Joanne and Penelope were having some much fun in the whales room today, getting to explore all the new toys to play with. They both loved pushing around the shopping trolleys whilst grabbing food to place in there trolley.

Reflection of the day

The children loved completing the large dinosaur puzzle even though it was tricky to do. Matching pieces together with the same colour at times helped to limit the number of pieces that would fit together.

Playdough and spontaneous play in the Dolphin's room home corner, shopping area and block corner also kept the children busy. It's great to see the children have fun together throughout the day.

The Sharks and Whales children are learning to trace and write their names. Hopefully, they can practise this in the mornings too when they arrive with their parents help.
