You came in confident and ready to tackle the day, you happily engaged in the experiences planned, engaged with the children and built relationships with your new educators.

We can't wait to continue this exciting new journey with you Tiffany.

Ayden's big steps in the Jellyfish room!

Ayden you have made such progress over the past couple of days after having a lot of time off over the past few weeks. Today you happily engaged in the experiences that we had planned, as well as exploring some of the puzzles we had set up for the day. During lunch time you joined your friends at the table and ate most of your lunch as well as laying down on your bed and having a sleep with the comfort of your educator by your side. We are so proud of you Ayden.

Exploring different textures!

As the children are all around the same age they are starting to discover different textures and get in touch with their 5 senses, sight, smell, taste, touch and hearing. Over the next few weeks we are going to be focusing on all different textures and explore our senses through play.

To continue on with this exploration, Miss Taylah made some edible sand like texture out of milk arrowroot biscuits and brown rice crackers. She crushed them all up so they were fine and smooth/rough texture like sand.

Miss Taylah sat down on the floor with the bowl of milk arrowroot biscuit sand and asked the children if they wanted to join her. Ethan, Tiffany, Zaidyn, Aria and Harvey came rushing over and sat down with Miss Taylah, ready to explore this new found texture. As they stuck their hands in to feel around they expressed their thoughts and feelings through their facial expressions, you could see it through all their faces. Once the children had explored the milk arrowroot sand, we packed it all away and cleaned it up ready to explore the brown rice cracker sand with Ayden, Miss Taylah sat at the table with Ayden and asked if everyone else wanted to join in on the fun, at first Ayden wasn't 100% sure about engaging in the experience, Miss Taylah grabbed one of the dinosaur puzzle pieces and buried it underneath the edible sand, this caught Ayden's attention, he then felt comfortable in exploring the sand. Tiffany and Zaidyn joined in with Ayden on the fun.
