

Starfish Daily Stories

Welcome

Jonathan

Welcome to our new friend!
Jonathan spent the day getting to know his new friends and educators.
He explored the room playing with all the toys and trying all the yummy food.

Painting bugs

To add to the bug table in the room the starfish children started painting their bugs.

Using recycled items they started off by painting them black working on our fine motor skill as well.

Now what kind of bug is black?

Guess we will have to wait till the paint is dry to add to the bug!

It's a bug life

We continue to explore the different kinds of bug this world has to offer.

First we listening to a story call 'I love bugs' and read all about why this little girls loves her bugs.

We then moved on to being able to hold and see what bugs look like. We could see bugs with wings, some with 8 legs and some with to many to count.

The starfish children seem to enjoy exploring the bug table!

We used the ribbons to dance along to the music shaking them up and down.

Pizza Pinwheels
 Jonathan and Maddie helped to add the pizza sauce by using a spoon, they then added chesses on top. Of course was a little taste test into between. After all their hate work they go to enjoy it for afternoon tea.

Exploring the room together.
 Having so much fun!

Reflection of the day

Jonathan had a great start here with us. He has settled in well.

The starfish children seem to really like exploring the bugs in the room and something will continue to add on to and maybe even bring a real bug for the children to feel and see!
