

STINGRAY DAILY STORY

WEEKLY TOPIC:

EMERGENCY SERVICES

TODAY'S TOPIC: AMBULANCES

AMBULANCE COLLAGE

As the theme of the day was ambulances, the children made an ambulance creation. They were handed out printed templates of an ambulance. They then proceeded to use their fine motor skills to apply the glue using a paintbrush, and delicately placed the red cellophane, red rolled mesh and red paper onto the picture. The stingrays were quite happy with the results.

GROUP TIME: WIGGLES MUSIC

For group time today, we decided to watch a few educational wiggles performances. In the first video, the wiggles sung about the importance of emergency services and what number you will have to dial when you are in an emergency. In the second video, the wiggles sang about firefighters and what their job entails. In the third video, the wiggles sang and danced with people dressed up in police uniforms. The stingrays children enjoyed the media during group time listening and dancing along to the famous Wiggles.

CHILDREN'S PLAY

As it was cold and rainy again today we spent the morning inside. Hanson, Nate and Azalea spent some time looking at the photos of our families. They started by pointing out their own families and then moved on to saying who was in each photo. Miss Taylor got out a fruit pie toy and some puzzles. The children placed all of the fruit inside the pie before putting it in the oven in home corner. They also spent time putting together all of the puzzles. We had a lot of fun playing with the new items.

Reflection of the day

It is yet another gloomy and rainy day so the children have to make do with the resources inside the room. They would independently choose what resources they would like to engage with and are reminded by educators to pack their toys away in order to develop their self-help skills if they would like to move onto something new.
