Snow day!

Happy snow day! This morning was crazy fun. The children had such a blast playing with all the awesome snow activities planned for them today including frozen dinosaur eggs, snow dough, playdough, frozen sensory gloves, colouring-in sheets, a sensory tray with cotton balls and shaving foam. Lucas Zhuang was so proud when he had finally freed the dinosaur from the ice using a hammer. Elora and Joanne really enjoyed playing with the cotton balls. Alina and Philip really loved playing with playdough. Lucas Ling loved playing with the snow dough and kept making different snowmen. The children were so excited to see the shaving foam, which quickly turned into a massive foam fight between a few staff and children. We all had so much fun this morning and can't wait to play with the snow this afternoon.

Physikids

The children had lots of fun during their Physikids lesson this morning as they learnt new tricks with the hula hoops.

They practised jumping into hoops on the ground when the music was stopped during a game of freeze.

Miss Kay then asked all the children to pretend the hoops were car steering wheels while walking around the mat bopping around to music.

Eventually, the hoops were whizzed around the ground as the children practised launching them. This was tricky, as they would only stay upright if they were launched quickly into motion.

We would like to say a big thank you to Miss Kay for joining us the past term. Miss Kay won't be returning due to low enrolment numbers, however she may be back in term four.

Reflection of the day

The children had such great fun during snow day activities. Using wooden hammers to crack open frozen dinosaurs from ice proved very challenging and required a lot of stamina from the children. Other activities, like the snow dough table proved interesting as different texture doughs could be used to make snowmen. Ice painting was also enjoyable, especially as the paints were extra slippery on the paper. Everyone had a wonderful time!
